FOREWORD

The Kentucky Constitution requires each house of the General Assembly to keep a journal as a public accounting of daily legislative activity. It is the official record of action by the General Assembly.

The Kentucky Revised Statutes require the Legislative Research Commission to compare, edit, correct, and publish the journals of each chamber. This is the House Journal for the Organizational Session of 1997.

The texts of simple and concurrent resolutions appear on first reading or adoption. Appendices contain a list of elected representatives, tables of actions on bills and resolutions, roll call votes, the budget memorandum, and a subject index.

Ms. Jean Wallace and Ms. Wilda Bond prepared the House Journal for the 1997 Organizational Session. The edited copy and appendices in this volume reflect the cooperative efforts of the LRC Staff.

Representative Ford inquired if the Committee on Committees actually met, was there a quorum and were minutes taken reflecting the actions of the Committee. The Speaker replied yes to all three inquiries. Representative Ford asked for a copy of the minutes. The Speaker stated that the minutes would be read by the Clerk.

Representative Ford stated that according to Rule 45 the minutes are to be filed with the Clerk and should be available to the members before they are read by the Clerk. He inquired if they had been filed.

The Speaker asked that the House stand at ease. The Speaker called the House to order.

The Speaker said there were two points he would like to make. First, the rules were suspended without objection to allow the Clerk to report the Committee on Committees Report and, secondly, according to Rule 45, the Chairman shall keep a record of the attendance of members at meetings. A careful record of the attendance at the meeting was kept.

Representative Ford said Rule 45 states that the record on attendance shall be filed with the Clerk.

Representative Lindsay noted that since the Rules were suspended to have this report read, the motion was in order.

The Speaker said that Rule 45 applies to standing committees only. The Speaker said the Report of the attendance is properly filed with the Clerk.

Representative Ford said that Rule 39 of the House Rules specifically states that "the number of members to be assigned to each committee is to be announced on the House floor prior to the Committee on Committees making its report." He asked if this was done.

The Speaker reiterated that the Rule refers to standing Committees and not the Committee on Committees. However, that report has also been filed with the Clerk.

Representative Ford asked if the minority party will have its equal representation on each Committee as is set out by Rules. The Speaker replied yes.

Representative Ford rose for a point of personal privilege and stated that the Rules had been violated and he was not notified of the Committee on Committees meeting.

The following Committee on Committees Report listing the members in attendance for January 8th and 9th was filed with the Clerk:

Representative Stumbo said the Committee on Committees meeting was held in compliance with the Rules of the House.

Representative Stine inquired of Representative Stumbo if the Committee on Committees Report must have a time on it.

Representative Stumbo replied that a time is not required. Representative Mason asked if the Speaker had Ruled on this issue. The Speaker replied yes. Representative Mason stated that the proper decorum then would be that the ruling stand or that the Chair's ruling be challenged.

Representative Cave stated that according to the Rules, the Committee on Committees Report must be prepared and signed by the Chairman. However, this Committee on Committees Report was prepared by Representative Stumbo. The Committee on Committees report was filed.

Representative Ford moved that the House recess for one hour for the purpose of making the Minority Report available to the members and asked for a roll call vote.

On the roll call for the House to recess the vote was Yeas 36--J. Adams, Allen, Anderson, Baugh, Brandstetter, Dw. Butler, Cave, Colter, Cox, Crall, Crimm, DeWeese, Ford, Gee, Hogancamp, Hoover, Lile, Marcotte, Maricle, Miniard, Murgatroyd, Napier, Nunn, Polston, Rader, Ratliff, Reinhardt, Riner, Siler, Simpson, Stine, Treesh, Turner, Vincent, Walton, Zimmerman. Nays 53--R. Adams, Adkins, Alexander, A. Arnold, J. Arnold, Ballard, Barrows, Bowling, Burch, De. Butler, Callahan, L. Clark, P. Clark, Collins, Curd, Damron, Geveden, D. Graham, G. Graham, Gray, Hatcher, Haydon, Hoffman, Horlander, Jenkins, Johns, Jordan, Lee, Lindsay, Long, Lovell, Marzian, Mason, McKee, Moberly, Nesler, Newsome, Palumbo, Pope, Rasche, Richards, Riggs, Scott, Sims, Stacy, Stein, Stumbo, Thomas, Wayne, Weaver, Wilkey, Worthington, Yonts.

The motion to recess for one hour was defeated.

Representative Worthington stated that according to Rule 4 no more than thirty minutes shall be allotted to Motions, Petitions and Communications and that thirty minutes had elapsed. Representative Worthington inquired if the House was now in Announcements. The Speaker replied that was correct.

The Kentucky Revised Statutes require the Legislative Research Commission to compare, edit, correct, and publish the journals of each chamber. This is the House Journal for the First Extraordinary Session of 1997.

The texts of bills appear on first reading and the text of simple and concurrent resolutions appear on first reading or adoption. Appendices contain a membership list of elected representatives, tables of actions on bills and resolutions, roll call votes, and a subject index.

Ms. Jean Wallace and Ms. Wilda Bond prepared the House Journal for the 1997 First Extrarodinary Session. The edited copy and appendices in this volume reflect the cooperative efforts of the LRC Staff.

12. To postpone indefinitely.

The above several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged and the first seven of them shall not be debatable.

A second motion to adjourn, to take a recess, to lay on the table, for the previous question, to limit or extend limits of debate, to postpone to a time certain, to lay on the Clerk's desk, to refer or commit or to postpone indefinitely shall not be in order on the same day, upon the same question, and at the same status unless other business intervenes; provided, however, that amendments may be made to the time to which it is proposed to adjourn, to take a recess or to postpone to a fixed time.

Rule 10. Motion to Adjourn. A motion to adjourn, to take a recess, or a motion to adjourn to a time certain, shall always be in order, except when a Senator is speaking while a vote is being taken or when the Committee on Committees is reporting; subject, however, to the limitations set out in Rule 9.

Rule 11. Motion to Table. The adoption of the motion to table, under these rules, defeats the subject matter under consideration. The reconsideration of the motion to table shall require approval of a majority of the members elected.

Rule 12. Previous Question. When the previous question has been ordered, a vote shall be taken immediately upon the pending measure and such pending amendments as are in order. The effect of the previous question shall be to put an end to all debate, to prevent the offering of additional amendments and to bring the Senate to an immediate vote upon the measure and amendments aforesaid. The previous question may be ordered by a majority of the Senators elected. On the call of the roll, no Senator shall be allowed to speak more than three minutes to explain his vote and shall not speak at all if the question is not a debatable question. After the previous question has been ordered, and before the vote upon the main question, the opponents of the measure shall have ten minutes, and proponents of the measure shall have ten minutes.

Rule 13. Motion to Set the Limits of Debate. A motion to extend a time limit for debate on a measure beyond that permitted under Rule 12 shall be in order unless the previous question shall have been ordered on the measure. The time limit set for debate under this rule shall be allotted by the President evenly between the opponents of the measure and the proponents of the measure. Adoption of a motion under this rule does not prevent the offering of additional amendments.

Rule 14. Motion to Reconsider. A motion to reconsider a vote shall not be in order unless made by a Senator who voted upon the prevailing side of the question; nor shall such motion be in order unless made within two legislative days in which the Senate is in session next after the day the vote was taken; however, the motion to reconsider when coupled with the additional motion to lay that motion upon the table may be made by any Senator. A motion to reconsider a vote on a bill or resolution not in the possession of the Senate shall not be in order.

Rule 15. Motion to Lay on Clerk's Desk. The effect of the adoption of a motion to lay on the Clerk's desk under these rules is to place in charge of the Clerk the pending question and everything adhering to it. A motion laid on the Clerk's desk may be taken from the desk and proceeded with at any time in the same order as when laid on the Clerk's desk.

Rule 16. Motion to Strike Out Enacting Clause. A motion to amend by striking out the enacting words of a bill or resolution shall have precedence over a motion to amend, and, if adopted, shall have the same effect as though the bill or resolution were regularly voted upon and rejected.

Rule 17. Motion to Separate Part of a Measure. A motion to commit, recommit, or postpone a part of a measure so as to separate that part of the measure from the remainder shall not be in order.

Rule 18. Postponement of Measures. When a measure shall have been postponed indefinitely it shall not be in order again during the session.

Rule 19. Reading of Pending Papers. Any pending bill, resolution, motion or report shall be read by the Clerk upon the demand of any Senator, but it shall not again be read on the same day unless so ordered by the Senate.

Rule 20. Nominations. In all elections a previous nomination shall be made.

Rule 22. Decorum of Members. No Senator shall designate another Senator by name.

Rule 23. Call to Order. If any Senator, in speech or otherwise, transgress the rules of order or decorum, he shall immediately be called to order by the chair and shall take his seat. The Clerk shall reduce the objectionable words to writing and read them to the Senate. After hearing a short explanation from the Senator called to order, or upon the withdrawal of the objectionable language, the President may permit the Senator to proceed, or may require his silence until the matter is disposed of. The ruling of the chair shall be subject to an appeal to the Senate. A Senator offending the Senate shall be liable to censure.

Rule 24. Debate. No Senator may speak more than once to the same subject until all Senators desiring to be heard have spoken, but nothing in this rule shall do away with the previous question if then in effect, nor permit debate on an undebatable motion.

No Senator shall speak more than thirty minutes in the aggregate on any question or measure, at the end of which period, or any portion thereof, the floor shall be returned to the President.

Rule 25. Members Shall Vote at Seats. A Senator shall vote only when at his seat or visibly approaching it.

OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

Rule 26. Duties of President. The President shall take the chair every day precisely at the hour fixed for the meeting of the Senate and, on the meeting of the Senate and on the appearance of a quorum, shall cause the Journal of the preceding day to be read, unless the reading of the same is dispensed with by the Senate.

The President shall preserve decorum and order and, in the event of any disorder in the gallery or in the Senate Chamber, may cause the same to be cleared of any persons creating disturbances or disorders.

All writs, warrants, subpoenas or other processes shall be signed by the officer who may be presiding over the Senate when the paper is issued; and his signature shall be attested by the Clerk, when ordered by a majority of the Senators.

The President may designate any Senator to preside in the absence of both the President and President Pro Tem and to perform all duties of the President, including duties as a member of the Committee on Committees. Such designation by the President may be made from time to time or for such duration of time as the President may designate.

Rule 27. Appeal from Decision of Chair. The President while presiding may speak to points of order in preference to Senators. He shall decide points of order and manner of procedure. If two or more Senators arise from their respective seats and address the chair, the President shall determine who was first and recognize him.

Any decision made by the President shall be subject to appeal to the Senate. During the pendency of any appeal to the Senate from a decision of the chair, the President shall vacate the chair and call the President Pro Tem to preside. When the President Pro Tem is presiding on an appeal to the Senate from a decision of the President, no motion or business shall be in order except the motion on appeal from the decision of the President, and that motion shall not be debatable.

Rule 28. President Pro Tempore. The Senate shall elect a President Pro Tem, who shall perform the duties of the President when the President is absent from the Senate, or when empowered by the President to perform the duties of the chair.

Rule 29. Duties of Clerk. The Clerk shall have charge and supervision of all the clerical business of the Senate. The Clerk shall have charge of the Clerk's section of the Senate Chamber and shall see that no one is permitted therein except the Clerk and those assisting the Clerk.

Rule 30. Journal of Proceedings. The Clerk shall cause to be kept the Journal of the proceedings of the Senate. The Clerk shall note upon the Journal all questions of order, together with the disposition of same, and the dates upon which all bills and resolutions were sent to committee and returned to the Senate. The Senate may correct errors in the Journal the day the Journal containing errors is presented to the Senate. No record which is in the hands of the Clerk and is required by law to be entered upon the Journal of the Senate shall be copied by any person until same shall have been entered upon the Journal and said Journal shall have been approved. Half an hour before the time fixed for the meeting of the Senate each day, the Clerk or an assistant shall be present at the Clerk's desk with the minutes of the preceding session for the inspection of any member of the Senate.

The Clerk shall transmit the Journal for each day as soon as it has been approved by the Senate to the Legislative Research Commission, which shall deliver it to the public printer. The Commission staff shall proofread and index the Journal upon return from the printer and make necessary typographical corrections.

Rule 31. Custody of Papers. The Clerk shall have custody of all records, papers and bills of the Senate and shall not allow them to be taken out of the Clerk's possession without the leave of the Senate, unless to be delivered to the chairman of a committee to which they have been referred or to the Legislative Research Commission, as specified in these rules, and then the Clerk shall take a proper receipt therefor. The Clerk shall endorse on bills and papers brief notes of proceedings had thereon by the Senate and preserve the same in convenient files for reference.

Rule 32. Accounts of Expenditures. The Legislative Research Commission shall keep the accounts for pay and mileage of members, officers and attaches, and for printing and other contingent expenses of the House and Senate.

Rule 33. Printing of Senate Papers. The Legislative Research Commission shall have supervision and charge of all printing done for the Senate as certified by the Clerk and the public printer shall print only such documents and other matter as the Legislative Research Commission authorizes. The Clerk shall report to the President, to be submitted to the Senate, every failure of the printer to execute work correctly and promptly.

Rule 34. Duties of the Sergeant-at-Arms. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms and Doorkeeper to exclude or remove all persons not entitled to the floor of the Senate. One hour before convening of the Senate each day the Sergeant-at-Arms shall announce in a loud distinct voice: "All persons not entitled to the floor of the Senate under the rules thereof will now vacate the Senate Chamber." The Sergeant-at-Arms shall then compel all persons who are not entitled to remain therein to leave the Senate Chamber and shall prohibit their entry until thirty minutes after the Senate has adjourned.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, before any joint session is to be held, shall request the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House to arrange for the seating of the members of the Senate in a body. The Senators will assemble in the Senate Chamber five minutes before the meeting of any joint session and go to the House in a body.

Rule 35. Appointment and Conduct of Constitutional Employees. The constitutional employees of the Senate shall be appointed by election during the organizational and regular sessions of the General Assembly and shall serve one year terms or until the election of their successors.

All the constitutional employees of the Senate shall, one hour before the meeting of the Senate each day, report to the Clerk, who shall report to the Committee on Committees whether all of said employees are on duty. The Committee on Committees, whenever it deems it necessary, shall report to the Senate any dereliction of duty.

Rule 36. Other Employees. All other professional, clerical and other employees required by the Senate or any of its committees shall, as authorized by the Committee on Committees, be provided by the Legislative Research Commission. The Committee on Conference shall confer with the House Committee and report back to the Senate within a reasonable time, in the same manner as reports are made for Senate bills. The conference report shall make no recommendation other than agreement upon or rejection of the matter or matters in controversy and shall be voted upon, and, if adopted, the bill shall immediately be put upon its final passage. Second and subsequent such committees may be appointed.

Should a Committee on Conference report its inability to submit a report, or if either house refuses to adopt its report, each house may appoint a Committee on Free Conference, consisting of three or more members. The Senate Committee on Free Conference shall meet with a like committee from the House, and may propose any amendment to the bill at issue, except the report of a Committee on Free Conference shall not be in order if it proposes to make a part of the measure at issue the substantial insertion of the text of any other bill which has not passed both the House and the Senate, or if it proposes the enactment of subject matter not previously considered at the session. The President, when the question is raised, shall rule as to the admissibility of the report of the Committee on Free Conference, subject to appeal to the Senate. The free conference report shall be voted upon; if adopted, the bill shall immediately be put upon its final passage, provided, however, that if a motion to reconsider coupled with a motion to lay on the table has been adopted by the Senate, the vote of a constitutional majority of the Senate shall be required to adopt the report of the free conference. Second and subsequent such committees may be appointed.

Except for report of disagreement, the consideration of the report of a Committee on Conference or a Committee on Free Conference, and final passage of the bill to which such report is attached shall not be in order on the same legislative day as such bill and report are received by the Senate.

The Committee on Committees, in conference with committee chairmen, shall schedule a definite time and place for the meetings of each committee, such schedule to be posted in the Senate Chamber and published in the Legislative Record. A committee shall meet at the scheduled time and place, so long as business is pending before the committee.

The Chairman shall keep a record of the attendance of members at meetings, which record shall be filed with the Clerk.

The Director of the Legislative Research Commission, under the direction of the Committee on Committees, shall assign a secretary to each committee and provide any professional, clerical or other employees required by any committee.

"With the expression of opinion that the same should not pass," or,

"Without expression of opinion."

Rule 47. Majority and Minority Reports. It shall require a majority of the committee membership to report a bill favorably. The chairman shall keep a record of the vote of each member on the disposition of each bill which shall be filed with the Clerk. The chairman may sign reports on behalf of a majority of the committee members. His signature shall attest to the action of a majority, but shall not be construed as his personal approval or disapproval of the bill.

A committee report may be accompanied by a minority report, signed by those members who have dissented from the committee's report; it shall be in order to move the adoption of the minority report as a substitute for the committee's report when the committee offers its report. It shall require a majority of the members elected to adopt the minority report. The committee's report shall always be read before the minority report is read.

Rule 48. Failure to Report. Whenever a committee fails or refuses to report a bill submitted to it, any member may, upon filing with the Clerk a written petition to determine whether the committee has held the bill for an unreasonable time, call the petition for consideration on the next succeeding legislative day after its filing. If a majority of the members elected to the Senate concur that the bill has been held an unreasonable time by voting to approve the petition, the bill shall be considered as though it had been regularly reported and shall be given its first reading and thereafter treated as any other bill which had been reported from a committee.

Rule 49. Procedure in Committee. The rules of procedure in the Senate shall be observed in committee insofar as the same are applicable.

Any section of a bill seeking to repeal a section or sections of the Kentucky Revised Statutes shall set forth in addition to the statute section number the statute section headnote as such appears in the Kentucky Revised Statutes. The Clerk shall refer to the Legislative Research Commission any bills offered for introduction not conforming with the computerized bill preparation system of the Legislative Research Commission.

Rule 51. Introduction of Bills. Bills and resolutions may be introduced from the floor in the regular Order of Business or by filing them with the Clerk at any time that the Clerk's office is open and before the Senate adjourns for the day. The Clerk shall number bills in the order received, record their introduction, and transmit a copy immediately to the Committee on Committees for reference to committee. No bill or resolution having the force of law, shall be introduced during the last twenty legislative days of the session. The two legislative days immediately prior to the last two legislative days shall be reserved by the Senate exclusively for the business of concurring in amended Senate bills. The last two legislative days shall be reserved by the Senate exclusively for the purpose of considering vetoed bills.

Rule 52. Fiscal Statement. A sponsor of a bill which, if enacted, would affect the revenues or expenditures of the Commonwealth generally, may at any time by request cause the staff of the Legislative Research Commission to analyze and prepare a fiscal statement for the measure. The staff of the Legislative Research Commission shall analyze and prepare a fiscal statement for any bill which, if enacted, would fiscally affect local governments through the imposition of a local mandate; or fiscally affect state or local corrections services in a significant manner, including any bill which would modify or create a criminal penalty or otherwise affect the population of a correctional system or facility. The chairman or a majority of the committee to which a bill has been referred may require that a fiscal statement be attached to the bill prior to final committee action. No measure for which the preparation of a fiscal statement has been requested or is required pursuant to this rule shall be placed in the Orders of the Day until the fiscal statement is attached. Members may require, by majority vote, that a fiscal statement be prepared for any bill on the Orders of the Day not otherwise requiring preparation of a fiscal statement. In such instance, the fiscal statement shall be attached to the bill prior to final consideration on the floor of the Senate. Any member proposing an amendment from the floor which relates to fiscal matters herein described shall cause a fiscal statement to be prepared and attached to the amendment. Until the time the fiscal statement is prepared and attached to the amendment, action on the bill to be amended along with the proposed amendment shall be passed over in the Orders of the Day but retained in the Orders of the Day. The requirement for a fiscal statement may be waived by a vote of a majority of the members elected to the Senate.

Rule 53. Rejected Administrative Regulations. Rejection of administrative regulations laid before the General Assembly according to law shall take the form of a joint resolution.

Rule 54. Reference of Bills. The Committee on Committees shall refer all bills to the proper standing committee not later than the second day in which the Senate is in session after the date of introduction. When a Senate bill has been amended in the House and has been returned to the Senate for concurrence in the amendment, it may be referred to a standing committee by the Rules Committee. Bills originating in and passed by the House when reported to the Senate shall be referred to the Committee on Committees and shall take the same course as other bills.

Rule 55. Printing of Bills. Upon receipt of a bill, the Legislative Research Commission shall examine the form of the bill, to ensure that it is free from errors of form or typography and has been assigned the proper KRS section or chapter numbers. If a formal change is necessary, the Commission shall request the sponsor of the bill to sign a form approving the specified changes. If a bill is found to be correct, or corrections have been approved, the Commission shall authorize its printing.

The Legislative Research Commission shall have printed at least two hundred copies of each bill or resolution carrying the force and effect of law introduced in the Senate and of each bill or resolution carrying the force and effect of law acted on by the House and reported to the Senate. Bills shall be printed in the order in which they are introduced and distributed to members immediately upon being printed.

Rule 56. Readings of Bills. If a bill be reported with the expression of opinion that it should not pass or without expression of opinion, a vote may then be taken on whether it shall be read at length and be placed on the Calendar, if a majority of the members elected to the Senate shall concur therein. When reported favorably by the committee, the bill shall then be given its first reading at length and shall be placed by the Clerk upon the Calendar to be kept by her, and shall then be entitled to its second reading the next succeeding legislative day.

Every bill shall be read at length on three different legislative days; but the second and third reading at length may be dispensed with by a majority of all the members elected to the Senate and the bill read by its title.

Rule 57. Calendar; Consent Calendar. (1) In order to reduce the time required for final passage of bills posted in the Orders of the Day, a consent procedure for the consideration of uncontested bills shall be established and designated as follows:

(a) The Clerk shall keep a Regular Calendar and a Consent Calendar for each legislative day, showing the bills receiving their second reading.

(b) The Clerk shall also keep a Regular Orders and a Consent Orders, showing bills posted for final passage by the Rules Committee.

(2) Bills reported by a Standing Committee with a regular "should pass" or "should pass with committee amendment/substitute attached" recommendation shall be shown in the Regular Calendar on the day on which they are entitled to a second reading.

(3) A Standing Committee may, at the time of favorably reporting any Senate or House Bill, recommend that it be placed in the Consent Calendar, provided:

(a) The primary sponsor has so requested, when it is a Senate Bill, and

(b) The bill receives a "should pass" or "should pass with committee amendment/substitute attached" recommendation from such committee by a unanimous vote of the members present.

Any Senate or House Bill thus reported shall be first placed in the Consent Calendar on the day on which it is entitled to a second reading and shall continue to be shown in said Calendar until taken therefrom by the Rules Committee and posted in the Consent Orders. Bills receiving a second reading should be so designated to distinguish them from bills which have already received their second reading.

(4) A certificate shall be attached to each bill recommended for the Consent Calendar, showing the request of the sponsor of any Senate Bill, and the unanimous recommendation of the members present, signed by the Chairman.

(5) After a sufficient number of bills have accumulated in the Consent Calendar, the Rules Committee may post any or all of said bills to the Consent Orders for a day certain. On that day certain the Consent Orders shall be called before the Regular Orders.

(6) Upon the call of the Consent Orders each bill in said Orders shall be given a third reading by title only. The President shall then allow a reasonable time for questions from the floor and any explanation necessary by the sponsor or committee chairman. Consent Order bills may not be amended from the floor.

(7) The Clerk shall attach a roll call to each bill in the Consent Calendar and any member may at any time prior to passage of the Consent Orders record with the Clerk his "nay" or "pass" vote on any bill within the Consent Calendar or Consent Orders.

(8) Upon the call for the question on the Consent Orders, the President shall instruct the Clerk to announce the "nay" and "pass" votes previously filed on each bill in the Consent Orders. All other members present in the chamber on the day and at the time the Consent Orders are called shall be considered as having voted "aye" and the roll call attached to each bill shall so reflect as the final vote.

(9) Upon the written petition of any five members objecting to the placement or retention of any bill in the Consent Calendar or Consent Orders, such bill shall cease to be so considered and shall be placed in the Regular Calendar or Regular Orders, as provided in these rules.

Rule 58. Orders of the Day. When a bill has had its second reading it shall be referred to the Rules Committee to be placed in the Orders of the Day, or be recommitted, and when next reached in the Senate it shall be ready for recommitment, or to be read a third time and placed upon its passage, and the President shall so announce to the Senate.

Except as provided in Rule 41, a bill may be recommitted or amended at any time before its passage. Bills shall be placed in the Orders of the Day and shall be taken therefrom in accordance with Rule 41. When a Senate bill is in the Orders of the Day, it shall be in order on motion of the author to substitute for it an identical House bill which is in the Calendar of the Senate.

No bill shall be taken from the Orders of the Day unless it shall have been previously distributed to the members.

Rule 59. Concurrence in Amendments and Reports of Conference Committees; Receding from Amendments; Final Passage. When a Senate bill and message have been received from the House requesting concurrence in an amendment or amendments adopted thereby, or when a report of a conference committee or a veto message is received, the bill and message or report so received shall be referred to the Rules Committee for posting to Orders of the Day. In such instances the Clerk shall distribute appropriate copies of the bill and its proposed amendment, report, or message to each member of such committee. The Rules Committee may post such bills to Orders of the Day for consideration of the amendment, report, or message, and final passage, giving precedence to such over all other matters posted.

When bills with amendments for concurrence or with conference committee reports are reached in Orders of the Day the President shall first put the question of concurrence in the amendment or report, whereupon if such is favorable the bill shall be put immediately upon its final passage.

Rule 60. Amendments to Bills. All amendments offered by a committee or by an individual Senator shall be typewritten on forms with a proper heading, furnished by the Legislative Research Commission. Each amendment shall bear in addition to the signature of the Senators offering the same an indication of review by the staff of the Legislative Research Commission. All amendments shall refer to the proper page and line of the printed bill. Two original copies of each amendment shall be filed. The Clerk shall not accept for filing any amendment not conforming with this Rule as to form. The Clerk shall forward two copies to the Legislative Research Commission. No amendment shall be in order that is not germane to the matter under consideration and that has not been printed and previously distributed by the Clerk to members at least one legislative day prior to consideration of the bill or resolution. The President, when the question is raised, shall rule as to the admissibility of the proposed amendment, subject to appeal to the Senate.

No amendment to a bill under consideration containing the substantial text of the language of any other bill introduced during the session shall be in order. The staff of the Legislative Research Commission shall cause such amendments to be identified when the bill proposed to be amended thereby is posted on the Orders of the Day. When a question is raised as to the identity of the proposed amendment containing the substantial text of any other bill introduced during the session the President shall rule thereon, subject to appeal to the Senate.

A committee substitute, upon its adoption, shall be considered as the original bill for purposes relating to the permissible degree of further amendment of the bill. Any proposal to amend the title of a bill shall be by separate title amendment. The question of adoption of an offered title amendment for a bill shall be presented to the body immediately after adoption of the bill.

Rule 61. Engrossment of Bills. Every Senate bill and joint resolution, together with the amendments thereto, which has been passed by the Senate and not subject to further amendment or motion, shall be engrossed by the Clerk. The Clerk shall endorse thereon the day of passage or adoption. The bill shall be delivered to the House in open session by the Clerk or someone designated by the Clerk, and the House concurrence asked therein. A like procedure shall be observed toward House bills.

When engrossing a bill, the Clerk may incorporate amendments by means of typing or by generating a replacement original of the bill through computerized process.

Rule 62. Enrollment of Bills. All Senate bills and resolutions which have passed both the Senate and the House shall be delivered by the Senate Clerk to the Enrolling Clerk, taking a receipt therefor. The Senate Clerk shall keep the number and title of all bills and joint and concurrent resolutions carrying the force and effect of law, passed by the House of Representatives and the Senate, in a suitable record book attesting the fact and date of passage.

In the event a bill which originates in the Senate is amended by the House and the Senate concurs in the amendments proposed and adopted by the House, the Clerk of the Senate shall engross said amendments in the original copy of the bill by typing or may generate a replacement original copy of the Senate bill through computerized process. The Clerk shall deliver a printed copy of the original bill or replacement therefor, if applicable, to the Legislative Research Commission, taking a receipt therefor. The Commission then shall prepare the amended enrolled copy, and return such to the Enrolling Clerk of the Senate.

The original bill or resolution or replacement therefor, if applicable, and the enrolled copy prepared by the Legislative Research Commission shall be delivered to the Committee on Enrollment. The Enrolling Clerk shall certify that each are in the exact form as finally passed prior to such delivery. The Committee on Enrollment and the Enrolling Clerk shall jointly compare the original bill with the enrollment copy, and if the enrollment is ascertained to be correctly done, the Committee shall report the same to the Senate. If any bill or resolution is found not correctly enrolled, it shall be returned to the Enrolling Clerk to be properly enrolled and delivered to the Committee on Enrollment as is first provided herein.

Rule 63. Signing of Bills. The Enrolling Clerk of the Senate shall deliver the original and enrolled copies of Senate bills and resolutions signed by the President or the President Pro Tem to the Chairman of the Enrollment Committee of the House for presentation to the Speaker of the House for his signature. The Committee on Committees may refer simple and concurrent resolutions to a standing committee or to the Rules Committee. All resolutions recommending a study shall include an approximate cost of the proposed study and, upon adoption, shall be referred by the Legislative Research Commission to the interim committee having jurisdiction of the same. All resolutions recommending or requiring a study, or which recommend or create a task force or special committee of the Legislative Research Commission shall be concurrent or joint resolutions.

Rule 65. Legislative Citations. For the purpose of extending the commendations, condolences or congratulations of the General Assembly to a particular person, or to recognize a particular event or occasion, there may be issued a "Legislative Citation." The Chief Doorkeeper announced the arrival of the Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Governor Paul E. Patton addressed the Joint Session of the General Assembly as follows:

President Saunders and members of the Senate; Speaker Richards and members of the House; Chief Justice Stephens and members of the Judiciary; Lt. Governor Henry and members of the Executive Branch; my fellow Kentuckians, I've called the General Assembly to Frankfort in extraordinary session to consider how we as a people should prepare ourselves to approach a new century.

How can we meet the increasing competitiveness of a global economy? How can we make ourselves more productive? How can we increase our standard of living?

For most of my adult life, I've pondered the economic problems which have faced Kentuckians. As I've studied the history of Kentucky, I've learned that before the Civil War, Kentucky was one of the most progressive states in the union, a leader in education, medicine, transportation and commerce, a center of religion and culture, the most developed state on the frontier of the rapidly developing Midwest, producing such great leaders as Henry Clay, Cassius Marcellus Clay, Abraham Lincoln, and Jefferson Davis.

I've often wondered how, after starting so far ahead, did we fall so far behind. I've concluded that after the civil war, we as a people failed to invest in the future. We didn't invest in infrastructure and we didn't invest in education. Our leaders failed us. They ignored the needs of the next generation. They had no vision, no courage and no passion for excellence.

The result is a Kentucky which ranks 42nd in per capita income.
46th in the number of children in poverty, 42nd in population without a high school education and 39th in college graduates. I could go on and on citing statistics that are not flattering.

We're a state with limited economic opportunity: limited economic opportunity because our population has limited levels of educational attainment.

Allow me to illustrate my point with a few charts. According to a recent University of Kentucky report, as this chart shows, 57 percent of our low per capita income is directly caused by our low level of education. Another 29 percent of our low per capita income is indirectly caused by our low level of education.

In fact, as this next chart shows, a person's income is directly related to their education. A person with a high school education will, on average, earn almost 50 percent more than a person without one. A person with a bachelor's degree will earn almost twice as much as a person with a high school diploma. A professional degree is worth more than twice as much as a bachelor's degree.

In this day and age, every Kentuckian needs an education beyond high school, if they're going to have a decent chance of earning a good living. Only the lowest paid jobs can be assured with a high school education. Less than a high school education can be a sentence to a life of poverty.

This next chart shows that 22 percent of the jobs in the future will require a bachelor's degree or more, and yet only 13 percent of Kentuckians have a bachelor's degree. The national average is 20 percent. 56 percent of the jobs in the future will require a postsecondary skills development course of study of 2 years or less and yet our production of these types of skills would have to be increased by over 50 per cent if we're to reach the national average.

Only 22 percent of the new jobs of the future can be performed with a high school education or less and that number will continue to decline.

If we're going to catch up with the rest of the nation, we have to dramatically increase the output of our various postsecondary educational institutions.

This chart shows that we must increase associate degrees by 31 percent, bachelors degrees by 20 percent, and masters degrees by 41 percent to compete with the rest of the nation.

Increasing the production of this kind of education will be a tremendous challenge but the real problems are at the opposite ends of the educational spectrum. We'd have to increase our production of doctorate degrees by 69 percent to reach the national average and increase our production of courses of study of less than 2 years and credentialed by a certificate by 64 percent.

We need to improve our educational institutions at all levels but we really need to concentrate on our doctoral universities, the University of Kentucky and the University of Louisville, and our community based schools, Kentucky Tech and the Community Colleges.

The problem with our doctoral schools is a lack of focus and a lack of money. The problem with our community based schools is a lack of coordination and a lack of money.

Yes, we need to spend more money on postsecondary education but we also need to make it more focused and more efficient. To those who say, "if it ain't broke, don't fix it", I say it is broken, we must fix it and fund it.

I'm prepared to recommend that we as a people invest another $100 million in postsecondary education, an increase of over 20 percent for non-medical education and research. But to spend this much more money without fixing the system would be wasting taxpayer's money.

Why do we need to spend more money on colleges and universities? The percent of the General Fund spent on higher education declined from 17 percent in 1987 to 14 percent in 1997. During the four years prior to my taking office, higher education spending, adjusted for inflation, declined by 11 percent.

In the past, when times got tough and money was short, it was higher education that got cut. University budgets were cut 5 percent in '92, 7 percent in '93 and 2 percent in '94 to cover state revenue shortfalls.

Not unpredictably, the biggest problems with under funding are at the opposite ends of the spectrum, community education and doctoral research universities. We've never adequately funded our research universities and we've pitifully neglected our community colleges.

In the eight years before I took office, funding for community colleges went down 17 percent relative to similar institutions in surrounding states. When I assumed this office, they were funded at only 75 percent of their benchmark institutions. This decline in relative funding occurred while enrollment was increasing 46.5 percent. As I began to prepare my first budget, it wasn't difficult to see that our community colleges were in a crisis. That's why the first budget I submitted to you had a 9.5 percent increase for Community Colleges in the first year and a 6.7 percent increase the second year.

This $11 million increase brought funding up to 83 percent of benchmark, a major improvement, but still not enough. Our first budget also included major capital construction projects for our community college system at Hazard, Ashland, Hopkinsville, Madisonville, Pikeville and Prestonsburg.

My proposal will increase funding for our Community Colleges by another $11.7 million, raising total funding to 95 percent of benchmark, a 26 percent increase in funding for our Community Colleges in just two years. This past neglect of our Community Colleges must stop!

Kentucky Tech has been similarly neglected. Comparative statistics aren't available so we don't know how much funding for these institutions will need to be increased. But we do know we need to make major investments in equipment and teaching technologies.

As a matter of good faith , we recommend an additional three-million dollars to be appropriated to Kentucky Tech immediately. We'll study the needs of Kentucky Tech during the next six months and provide even more funds in the biennial budget I'll propose in the next regular session of the General Assembly.

Our proposal also includes an immediate appropriation to bring funding for all our regional universities to at least 95 percent of the funding for their benchmark institutions in surrounding states!!!

These appropriations to make our system more equitable will make our distribution of state funds to our postsecondary institutions the fairest it's been in a long time.

Our proposal will also include an immediate appropriation to begin to build excellence and a national reputation for education in Kentucky.

Each regional university will receive a special appropriation to help it become the best in a least one field of study. And, we'll begin the process of building the University of Louisville and the University of Kentucky into nationally respected doctoral research universities.

Our goal is to make every University in Kentucky known for excellence throughout the nation in twenty years. We'll have more than just basketball as a reason to be proud of our eight state supported universities.

And in the budget proposal in January of next year, we'll fund programs to provide more scholarships for Kentucky students, programs to provide community colleges and technical institutions the equipment needed to provide for a quality technical education program.

We'll fund a capital construction program to provide the buildings and the technology we need to create an electronic university and make a four year education available to every Kentuckian in or near their home.

This is an ambitious program, a program to build an efficient and responsive system of schools to educate our people, young and old, for the new millennium. It won't be easy, it won't be quick and it won't be cheap. But we can afford it. To those who say we can't afford this commitment, I say we can't afford not to make this commitment.

The only way we can change the course of this state's future, build a healthy economy and increase our revenue base for the long term, is to invest in education. We can do it, and for the sake of our children, we must do it.

But first, we must change the way our colleges and universities work. The first element of our proposal is to establish six distinct, measurable goals for our colleges and universities to be achieved by the year 2020, a little over 22 years from now.

The first goal is to establish a seamless, integrated system of postsecondary education strategically planned and adequately funded to enhance the economy and the quality of life in Kentucky.

We'll establish at the University of Kentucky a first class comprehensive research university ranking in the top twenty public research universities in the United States.

The University of Louisville will become a nationally recognized metropolitan research university.

Each of the six regional universities will develop a national reputation in at least one area of study.

Our regional universities must provide statewide access to affordable, high quality baccalaureate and masters degree programs. These universities will use the latest electronic means to provide distance learning through a jointly operated virtual university to provide efficient access to a four year bachelor's degree to all Kentuckians, no matter where they live!

We'll develop a comprehensive community and technical college system that ensures reasonable access throughout the Commonwealth to the first two years of a course of general studies designed for transfer to a baccalaureate program. This united system will provide a technical skills training program adequate to develop a workforce to meet the needs of our new or existing businesses and industries. And it'll provide remedial and continuing education programs to improve the quality of life and employability of our people. We must have a community based postsecondary system which can compete effectively with any system in America.

And finally, we'll have an efficient, responsive and coordinated system of autonomous institutions which will deliver educational services to the citizens of the Commonwealth of a quantity and quality comparable to the rest of the nation.

Some would say this kind of an education system in Kentucky is an impossible dream. I say this kind of education system in Kentucky is what we should've committed ourselves to a hundred years ago.

To accomplish these goals, we propose to establish a council on postsecondary education consisting of thirteen outstanding Kentuckians, who'll be fair to every region of Kentucky, and every institution in the system. This council will select the most qualified educator- administrator they can find, who'll lead the Council as they develop a specific plan that we can implement to reach these goals by the year 2020. This plan will be comprehensive and will have specific benchmarks we can use to measure our progress. This council will work with the Governor, the legislature, the various institutions and the people of Kentucky to insure that everyone cooperates and carries their share of the load. This council won't control our universities. It won't be a super board. It won't hire or fire the presidents of our institutions. It will help us stay on course to reach our goals.

This isn't a program laced with new bureaucracies, or requiring more administration. This proposal is designed to eliminate red tape, provide flexibility, responsiveness, and insure the efficient use of the taxpayer dollar. We've designed a new vehicle to deliver educational services to Kentuckians in a new century.

This major change is supported by seven of the eight state supported universities in Kentucky and all eight of the student body presidents of our universities, including Ms Melanie Cruz, the president of the University of Kentucky student body. This proposal has the support of all nineteen independent colleges and universities in Kentucky; the Prichard Committee on Academic Excellence; the Kentucky Advocates for Higher Education and almost every major newspaper in the state including the Kentucky Kernel, the University of Kentucky student newspaper. We're also supported by newspapers in the community college towns of Ashland, Harlan and Owensboro. Business organizations like the State Chamber of Commerce, dozens of local chambers and local economic development organizations know these changes must be made. Kentucky's major employers like UPS, Toyota, and G.E. use the product of our system and they can compare our results to those in other states . They support these improvements. Other organizations like the Kentucky Education Association; the NAACP; the Louisville Urban League; the Taxpayers Action Group; the Kentucky League of Cities; the Kentucky County Judges' Association; the Kentucky Association of Counties and many labor organizations are for these progressive changes and the list goes on and on.

This is a vital step we must take if we're going to move this state forward.

Almost everybody in Kentucky who's taken the time to study our proposal has concluded it's needed. Almost everybody except the administration of the University of Kentucky.

Let me remind you that UK is my alma mater, the institution where I received the education which allowed me to become the person I am, the institution to which I entrusted the education of two of my children, the institution to which I've been a consistent contributor over the past twenty or so years, the school I'm as devoted to as any other Kentuckian. I'm determined to make UK a great center of academic excellence.

There's one part of our proposal that's caused a lot of debate and, fueled primarily by misinformation, has created divisiveness and opposition. The issue of creating a united and independent community based postsecondary education system is, in the big picture, a detail, but a very important, in fact vital detail.

Every expert I've talked to, all the information I've read and my good common sense tells me that if we're going to have an efficient, responsive, comprehensive system of community based educational services, then the institutions we depend on to provide those services must be, as a minimum, united and independent enough to pursue their own destiny. They can't compete with each other and they can't be dominated by a huge bureaucracy with a different mission.

That's exactly what we have right now. Kentucky Tech is a part of state government and it's hide-bound by bureaucratic red tape. The community college system is administered by and dominated by the huge bureaucracy of the University of Kentucky.

KY Tech and the Community Colleges are generally located very close together, most of the time in the same town and in some cases, on the same campus. In many ways, they compete against each other and they're definitely not free to pursue their own agenda.

If we're going to change things for the better, sometimes we have to think outside of the box, think the unthinkable thoughts. Some people in Kentucky believe I've not only thought the unthinkable thought, I've been brash enough to utter it out loud. I suggested a proposal to separate the community colleges from the University of Kentucky and put them under an independent board along with Kentucky Tech. This proposal was not to merge the two systems but rather to place them under a common source of authority to make them cooperate and stop their wasteful competition. After all, they are spending your tax dollars and it's my responsibility to see that your taxes aren't wasted.

I'm convinced that this separation would allow UK to put more focus on its efforts to become a great research university, something we must have, if we're going to be the great state that I envision. But my proposal hasn't had a fair discussion based on the merits of the case.

Some people believe that we're going to close the community colleges, or turn them into high school vocational schools or lower their academic standards, or raise tuition or cause students to lose scholarships or cause the colleges to lose their accreditation and a lot of other false impressions. None of these allegations is true but I realize how much pressure this issue has put on the legislature. I understand the fear this misinformation has placed in the minds of students and their parents. I'm not insensitive to you or the supporters of UK and the community colleges.

I repeat again that my proposal will have increased funding for community colleges by 26 percent in my first two years in office.

After eight years of a decline in relative funding and a dramatic increase in enrollment, our Community Colleges were in crisis when I became Governor. I have and will continue to insure that they're adequately funded.

I've listened at community college campuses, I've met with UK faculty and administrators, I've consulted with you, the elected representatives of our people, and I've talked with the students who want a good education, and the opportunity to find a good job, and create a better life for themselves in Kentucky.

As a result of these discussions, I've modified my proposal , without compromising my principles, and I'm now suggesting the Community Colleges maintain an affiliation with the University of Kentucky, shifting administrative responsibility to the new Board of Regents of the Kentucky Community and Technical College System. Kentucky Tech in its entirety will also be transferred to the new board which will have responsibility for budget, personnel and other administrative functions of the community colleges. This will insure a structurally joined system that will have the independence and flexibility necessary to be responsive to regional workforce needs.

Degrees which have been previously authorized by the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees will continue to be issued in the name of the University of Kentucky Community College System. UK will continue to provide administrative support to the Community College System. UK will have academic oversight to insure the quality of programs affiliated with its name. UK will nominate candidates to fill four positions on the new Kentucky Community and Technical College System Board and students at the Community Colleges will retain access to UK student activities. The students are and will continue to be the central focus of our concern. I realize that many of them have been misled. Many have no outside point of reference for comparison of our proposal. I make one promise to the students of Kentucky Tech and the community colleges. One year after this program takes effect, your schools will be better funded, more responsive and providing you with a high quality, more varied education with more access in Kentucky than ever before.

The same promise is made to the staff and faculty of Kentucky Tech and the community colleges. The faculty and staff are our greatest asset in community based education. All existing rights of these employees will be protected and benefits will be expanded. Not only will the additional funding allow the colleges to pay fair wages, the tuition free educational advancement program of six hours a year for community college faculty at the University of Kentucky will be extended to the faculty of Kentucky Tech and the courses can be taken at any of our eight state supported universities.

A major focus of this program is to increase the responsiveness of our community based educational system. Removing Kentucky Tech from state government is an important part of this effort. Some people have accused me of wanting to increase the Governor's political power. The fact is, this proposal will move two thousand state employees of Kentucky Tech from the Governor's direct line of control into an autonomous body, one over which the Governor will have no administrative control. This proposal will reduce the Governor's political power by two thousand state employees.

Our proposal will give real authority to the Community College Advisory Boards . These boards would be renamed boards of directors. They will participate in the search for new presidents, should openings occur, and will make the final recommendation of a president from a list of three candidates suggested by the chancellor of the community college system. The money appropriated to the Community Colleges will be allocated to each college fairly and the local board will administer the budget of the college and keep any money they save to be used as they see fit. These community colleges will use this increased independence to develop their own strategic plans so they can better serve their students and the businesses of their service regions.

Again, the objective of these changes is to enable these colleges to respond to the needs of the communities they serve. Our local communities must have a voice in determining their own destiny!

This same self governing authority will be extended to the KY Tech institutions as their administrative structure is changed to become more like a postsecondary educational institution and as they shake off the bureaucratic constraints imposed by state government.

Various elements of this proposal have been suggested to us by members of the general assembly, Democrat and Republican. I want to thank the Republican Party for, at least up to now, keeping this issue non-partisan. The education of our children is too important to be used as a pawn in the struggle of partisan politics.

I believe this proposal satisfies the basic concerns of the students and the communities in which the community colleges are located. The community colleges will retain a meaningful affiliation with the University of Kentucky, which will insure the maintenance of University of Kentucky quality in the academic courses, allow the students to earn the same University of Kentucky Community College degree they now earn, and maintain a University of Kentucky presence in their communities.

I believe this proposal will substantially increase the efficiency and responsiveness of the Community Colleges and KY Tech and will insure the best expenditure of the taxpayer's dollar.

I've reached out to satisfy the concerns of those who care about the University of Kentucky and the community colleges.

It now becomes the responsibility of this General Assembly to do what you know is right.

This is a comprehensive proposal, a progressive move forward which has been applauded by just about every group interested in improving postsecondary education in Kentucky. It's not that complicated.

It's not the solution to all our education problems. In fact, it's just the first installment of a long-term investment to regain the ground we lost during 100 years of neglect of higher education in Kentucky.

I want to make one point very clear, I'm not just asking the legislature of Kentucky to pass a law, I'm asking the people of Kentucky to make a long term commitment, a commitment to excellence, a commitment to access for every Kentuckian, a commitment to our children and grandchildren.

This is a time for leadership, a time for you to study the facts, ignore the false and misleading rhetoric, make a judgment on behalf of the people who elected you to do what's best for them in the long run.

We're the leaders of Kentucky. If we're to have the Kentucky our people envision then we must have leaders who can think the unthinkable thoughts, dream the impossible dream, and have vision which reaches far beyond the horizon.

If we can be those leaders, then Kentucky can be the state that can hold the same kind of promise for our descendants that it held for our ancestors 200 years ago.

I know how hard it is for some of you, I've received the same kind of uninformed calls and letters as you. But I came here to make a difference, not just to hold an office. This time will not come our way again. The future of Kentucky is in our hands.

Good night, God bless you and God bless Kentucky.
